

Digital Currencies and Their Role in International Trade

Casey Thompson

Ph.D.

University of Melbourne
Parkville, VIC 3010, Australia

Ashley Roberts

Ph.D.

Lviv Polytechnic National University
S. Bandery St, 12, Lviv, Lviv Oblast, Ukraine, 79013

Jordan Gonzalez

Ph.D.

University of Tokyo
7 Chome-3-1 Hongo, Bunkyo City, Tokyo 113-8654, Japan

Abstract. This paper explores the rapidly evolving field of digital currencies and their potential impact on international trade. By evaluating the benefits and challenges associated with digital currency adoption, the study aims to provide insights into their role in facilitating cross-border transactions. Through an analysis of current trends and regulations, this research highlights the implications for governments and businesses in embracing digital currencies as legitimate tools for trade enhancement.

Keywords: digital, currencies, trade, international, impact

Introduction: The emergence of digital currencies presents both opportunities and challenges for the global trading system. As businesses and governments increasingly adopt these technologies, it is crucial to understand their potential to reshape international trade dynamics. This paper investigates how digital currencies can streamline cross-border transactions, reduce costs, and increase trade efficiency. We also consider regulatory challenges and the need for international cooperation to ensure stability and security in digital currency exchanges. Our findings contribute to the ongoing debate about the future of digital currencies in the international economic landscape. This is a preliminary version. To read the full version of the article, please purchase a subscription.

References

1. Babayev, F. (2020). GIDA SANAYİSİNDE YENİLİKÇİ GELİŞİM. In Econdor 2020 3rd. International Economics, Business and Social Sciences Congress (p. 240).
2. Fikrat, B. F. (2023, January). THE ROLE OF AGRICULTURE IN ENSURING ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT. In Publisher. agency: Proceedings of the 1st International Scientific Conference «Research Retrieval and Academic Letters»(January 26-27, 2023). Warsaw, Poland (p. 73).