

Public Policy and Social Equity: Addressing Inequality through Legislation

Avery Carter

Dr.

University of Cape Town
Rondebosch, Cape Town, 7701, South Africa

Olivia Young

PhD

University of Edinburgh
Old College, South Bridge, Edinburgh EH8 9YL, United Kingdom

Cameron Martinez

Prof.

Columbia University
New York, NY 10027, United States

Abstract. This article explores the role of public policy in promoting social equity and addressing inequality through legislative measures. It examines policy initiatives aimed at reducing income disparity, enhancing access to education, and improving social welfare. The study evaluates the effectiveness of these policies through case studies and statistical analyses. By identifying best practices and areas for improvement, the article offers recommendations for policymakers seeking to enhance social equity through legislative action.

Keywords: Social Equity, Public Policy, Inequality, Legislation, Income Disparity

Introduction

Social equity is a fundamental goal of public policy, requiring legislative measures to address systemic inequalities and promote fairness. Governments implement various policy initiatives to reduce income disparity, enhance educational access, and improve social welfare. This article explores the role of public policy in promoting social equity by analyzing legislative measures aimed at addressing inequality. It examines the effectiveness of these policies through case studies and statistical analyses, identifying best practices and areas for improvement. These insights provide recommendations for policymakers seeking to enhance social equity through targeted legislative actions.

This is a preliminary version. To read the full version of the article, please purchase a subscription.

References

1. Hasanova, J., & Najafova, K. (2025). Digitization, automation problems and solutions in small business on the example of Azerbaijan. WSEAS Transact. Bus. Econ, 22, 1358-1369.

2. Hasanova, J., & Najafova, K. (2025). Digitization, automation problems and solutions in small business on the example of Azerbaijan. WSEAS Transact. Bus. Econ, 22, 1358-1369.